A. Wood and Miss Ila Proctor.

Vernon Tuesday on business.—Mrs. Rosalind Nesbit who has been spending a few days with her father Mr. Repper, who remains very sick, returned to her home Monday.—Mr. and Mrs. Jas. The remains were brought to this place for burial.

In memory: Of our dearly and well beloved friend, Wm Wallace Mullins who on Nov. 11th. at 1 o'clock a. m. passed from this sorrowful world to that sweet beyond. He was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Mullins of Pine Hill and was about twenty-five years of age. He was married to Miss Vina Logson Dec. 26th. 1905 to which union was born one child, Brightie who seven weeks prior to its fathers death, died of the same disease (dysentery).

He was an upright Christian and was a member of the Christian church at Chestnut Ridge.

Beside his wife he leaves a father mother, five sisters, and five brothers who mourn for him deeply. But your loss dear friends is Heaven again, "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away." Therefore seek consolation in him who alone can comfort the broken hearted. For Wallace said at the last hour "Don't cry don't cry but laugh" It was a happy thought to him to know he would soon be done suffering and be on the right hand of Jesus where he told you all he would soon be.

Secretary Cortelyou, with the approval of the President, has announced an issue of Panama bonds to the extent of $50,000,000. The Treasury will also issue interest-bearing certificates of indebtedness to run for one year to the extent, if necessary, of $100,000,000. This action is the result of the series of night conferences at the White House ending with Saturday night:

A SIGNIFICANT PRAYER.

A real gusher was struck last week in the untested portion of Wayne county and flowed 100 barrels a day, opening a new territory to the oil men. With this exception the week was a dull one, and the most interest was shown in the Wolfe county field.

MR. PRICE'S GOOD WORK.

Our neighboring county of Boyle seems to be the only one in the state which came up smiling with an increased Democratic majority after the Republic landslide of Tuesday, and the credit is largely due to one of Garrard's native sons, Hon. Wm. Jennings Price who was Democratic Campaign Chairman there. Boyle is known to be a close county, in fact to be Republican by poll, but on Tuesday gave Hager the lead by 216, being the largest majority given any candidate for Governor for forty years; and, in addition, usually heretofore going Republican in state and national races. Gov. Bradley carried it over Hardin by 157. The result is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that McCleary carried the county in the Democratic primary last Fall by about 400, and Tuesday's returns indicate that the bad humor resulting from this primary was the cause of much of the stay at home and knifing among the Democrats on the 5th. In this primary, however, Mr. Price was chairman of McCleary's campaign in Boyle, and in his Democratic loyalty must have shown a spirit this year that was attractive and animating.

It is a pleasure to note the lack of acrimony or charges of fraud and corruption, when a contest is over in the county of Boyle. Mr. Price and his loyal fellow-workers conduct their campaigns with the fierceness and aggressiveness of a Forrest charge, but open and clean. In addition to other qualities, for which Mr. Price is held in esteem in Garrard, his neighboring political organization and friends give him recognition as a tactful political leader of the character, that makes for better things in Kentucky.

SHALL WE PAY TAXES TO SUPPORT OUR SCHOOLS?

Every nation has crystallized into its public institutions its idols of life. Go into any community and you will find there the best interest of its people manifested in its public buildings and public exercises. If you find a community well supplied with athletic grounds, and games frequently provided, and little interest manifested in any other public enterprise, you conclude that the community is fond of athletic sports. If you enter another community and find there well built churches neatly and carefully kept, an educated ministry and large congregations in attendance upon the services, you conclude that you have entered a community where religion is prominent in the thoughts of the people. Were you to find, in another community, stores and all business houses open seven days in the week and every one entering the mad race for wealth, you would infer that the community in which you are found is given over to the worship of the Almighty Dollar. So indeed, if the school building occupies a prominent site in any community, if its grounds are well kept, if the house is neatly furnished, if the desks are new and modern, if the corps of teachers is well educated and well paid and if the community is taxing itself cheerfully and sufficiently well to keep the school going ten months in the year, you conclude that you are in a community that has placed the education of the young as its highest ambition. You know that you are among a people who are sufficiently patriotic and thoughtful for the welfare of their children to provide those things in common which alone can insure the continuation of our government and the increase of the best things among us.

It is needless for me to say that we need in Kentucky a better spirit toward our schools that we need to provide for their material

Mt. Vernon,

A special from London dated the 18th. says—"The most shocking tragedy in the history of London occurred at 10:30 a. m. here to-day. Robert Boyd Jr., Master Commissioner of Laurel county and a prominent attorney, shot and instantly killed James Sparks, one of the ablest and most prominent lawyers in Eastern Kentucky. Sparks was formerly County Attorney of Laurel county and was a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney. The tragedy occurred in the Circuit Clerk's office, where Boyd as Commissioner, was making settlement in a case in which Sparks represented one side. Bad feeling had existed between the two men for some time, Sparks having taken exception to some of Boyd's official conduct in the same suit.

Sparks also represented Lillie Hubb, who claimed to be a daughter of Judge Robert Boyd, deceased in which the woman seeks to break the will of Judge Boyd, which made young Boyd, his nephew, the administrator, and gave him a large part of his estate of nearly $200,000. Eye witnesses say that only a petty quarrel had occurred before the shooting began.

D. C. McDougle
Business Director,
Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, Richmond, Ky.

John C. McKee, a prominent London citizen, stated to the Evening Post reporter that Sparks walked into the Clerk's office, where Boyd was making a settlement in the case of "Tip" Sparks against Jordan Smith "Tip" Sparks was writing checks. Sparks said to Boyd: "You have taxed more cost than you are entitled to, and I will see that the proceeds of sale do not pass through your hands, and you will not get the 2 per cent. commission." Boyd said that the sale bond was made payable to him, and that he would be entitled to collect the money and have the commission.

Returning confidence makes the financial outlook brighter than it has been for a week and the only thing that is causing trouble now is the tendency to hoard currency. Henry Clews in his weekly letter, says that the person who hoards money now should be regarded as a traitor. Millions of gold is now on its way to this country and will help to relieve the situation.

The two men were standing on opposite sides of the table. Both men walked the floor, talking and watching each other. Both men had their hands in or about their front pants pockets. Boyd quickly drew a thirty-eight revolver and fired. Sparks fell, crying "Don't do that; you have killed me." Boyd fired three more shots. All took effect in Sparks' breast and he died instantly. Sparks had abused Boyd on various occasions when Boyd was unarmed. Boyd is a peaceable, quiet citizen.

There has been exhibited from time to time, in this country, and that far too often, a maudlin and uncalled sympathy for criminals of certain class. If a man commits some common crime, like larceny or burglary, but little notice is taken of the affair. Let a man, however, commit a murder, in which a woman is in some way involved, or any matter of a sensational nature be connected therewith, at once a wave of unreasoning sympathy sweeps over the land. The newspapers are filled with it. The criminal is represented as the victim of moral insanity. He is more sinned against than sinning. He is undeserving of punishment, he becomes a hero in his own estimation and a martyr in the eyes of his maudlin sympathizers. Courts and juries are condemned because they have found him guilty, and governors are chided if they do not commute his sentence or pardon him entirely.

DeWitt's Little Early Ringers art the best pills made. They do not gripe. Sold by Chas. C. Davis.

You can't be well if you have a weak, unhealthy, tired out stomach. Neither can you feel good if by some little irregularity in eating you have caused the stomach to get out of order. These little stomach troubles are signs of indigestion, which may and very often does turn into a very bad case of dyspepsia. Don't allow this to go on a single day without doing something to overcome it. Take some good reliable and safe digestant like, KODOL for Dyspepsia. KODOL is the best remedy known to-day for heart burn, belching and all troubles arising from a disordered digestion. It is pleasant to take and affords relief promptly. Sold by Chas. C. Davis.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce G. T. JOHNSON as a candidate for County Court Clerk, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Bankers capitalists and financiers in New York generally approve the action of Secretary Cortelyou in issuing $50,000,000 of Panama bonds and $100,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness for the relief of the financial stringency.

With the issue of these bonds bankers everywhere feel that the financial stringency which has been experienced for the past few weeks will be greatly relieved. The effect upon our local banks has scarcely been felt and under their splendid management, no serious inconvenience need be expected as every precaution has and will at all times be taken to protect stockholders and depositors in either of our three splendid banks.

THE Alabama Senate Tuesday passed the Carmichael State Prohibition Bill by a vote of 32 to 2, after an amendment had been inserted putting the time when prohibition shall go into effect as January 1, 1909. The bill will now go back to the House for concurrence. It is generally understood that the compromise bill will hold good.

The financial condition is taking on quite a different aspect, and those who have waited this long to get excited can safely wait a while longer. Instead of growing worse conditions all over the country, show marvelous improvements for the better each day.

THE ghost of the financial situation, which some few are seeing so vividly, passed more than three weeks ago and it is only a recollection of what might have been and not a reality of what is.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription, states a well known authority in a Cleveland morning paper, forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism.

Rheumatism is not only the most painful and tortious disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly. Our druggist says they will either supply these ingredients or make the mixture ready to take, if any our readers so prefer.

TALK ABOUT TAXES

Various State Grangers On the Subject.

Demand For Study of the Question by the Farmer For His Own Interest.

The farmers composing the Grange, an organization that has done much to study the real interests of the farmer, has been taking a good deal of interest in the subject of taxation lately and some very pertinent utterances on this question have been given out in the addresses of the Masters at annual sessions of various state Granges.

At a recent meeting of the Washington State Grange, the Master gave considerable attention to the question of taxation. He said, in part:

"I urge every Grange in this state to take up the study of taxation, in all its phases earnestly and seriously during the coming year, for I feel strongly that we farmers have hardly realized the importance of thoroughly understanding the fundamental principles of taxation."

"In considering the subject of state taxes, in the brief time I have been able to give it since my mind has been fully aroused to its importance, I have come to doubt very much the wisdom of our present method of assessing state taxes. Section 2 of Article 7 of our state constitution is as follows: 'The legislature shall provide by law a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation on all property in the state, according to its value in money.' (This is the general property tax similar to Kentucky.)

"The above constitutional provision is similar to that of many of the western states and enjoins a system of taxation which has been tried in practically all the states of the Union. It requires the application of the same rules of taxation to forms of property totally different in character. Most of the older states, such as New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, have constitutions which impose no restraint on the power of the legislature, or very little more restraint than that imposed by the federal constitution. Those states have developed systems of taxation more in harmony with modern conditions.

"The attempt to tax all kinds of property by the same rules, has in all times, and in all countries, imposed heavier burdens upon rural districts than cities, and in a large degree has measured the tax to be paid by each citizen by the amount of his consumption, rather than by the opportunity he enjoys to acquire wealth under the protection of the state.

"The plan adopted by our neighbor, Oregon, is to apportion the state tax in proportion to the revenue raised by each county. Oregon made the mistake of not carrying out the principle to its logical conclusion.

The tax should be apportioned in proportion to the entire revenue raised by each county, and all the taxing districts within each county.

The tax should be apportioned in proportion to the entire revenue raised by each county, and all the taxing districts within each county.

"It is very easy to see that the more highly developed and more densely populated a county may be, the more money it needs for local purposes in proportion to its taxable values, and the greater is the power to pay taxes.

The tax apportioned in this manner will shift from the poorer and remote rural counties the burden they now bear, and impose it on the more thickly settled and prosperous counties.

"This change would do away with the universal temptation to undervalue property in order to shift the state tax to other communities.

A study of the experience of other states shows that one of the greatest evils has been this incentive to undervalue. It produces inequality and dissatisfaction, if not downright fraud."

The Ohio State Grange.

In Ohio they are proposing an amendment to the constitution that will permit of a classification of the sources of revenue, such as is now in effect in Pennsylvania. The difficulty with the Ohio constitution is exactly similar to that in Kentucky. They are proposing there an amendment to the constitution which will make it read this way: "Taxes shall be levied at a uniform rate upon all property of the same class." The Ohio constitution now requires that taxes shall be uniform upon all classes of property, the provision being similar to that of the constitution of Kentucky.

The Master, Honorable F. A. Dethrick commenting upon the proposed amendment to the constitution, said:

"To pull up every stake in our constitution seems heroic treatment, and if done would throw upon the people added responsibility in the selection of their representatives. If classification is to be the plan adopted, it should be left to a commission of at least five members appointed by the governor, one from each of the four districts whose combined efforts have made us all we are—one from manufacture, one from mining, one from commerce, one from agriculture. This board should be reinforced by the appointment of a member of well-known integrity and great legal ability."

The farmers are not committed to the idea of classification, but we wish to join in the study of tax revision.

The Ohio State Grange, assembled in annual session, December 11 to 13, 1906, by a unanimous vote expressed the desire of an organized body of taxpayers, fifty thousand strong, to cooperate with all other interests in devising a tax system that shall be just and fair to every legitimate interest in the state."

If I ONLY HAD CAPITAL. The above words were recently uttered in our hearing by a worthy boy and undoubtedly they are often reiterated by many who are out of employment, or have little or nothing to do. To all such we say, on have home capital, you have hands, feet, bone, muscle, health and are not these capital? What more capital has God given any body? "But if I only had a few thousands in cash capital," says the young man. But these are better than cash capital, for no one can take them from you, and with these you can earn cash.

Our men of wealth and influence did not start with any cash capital. They went to work with their plow and hoe, the jack plane or ax, and in time their capital brought them a rich harvest. Ah! but the effort is hard; you don't want to work. You want money on credit so you can play the gentleman, speculate and end your career by playing vagabond. You want to marry a rich girl who will support you, while you wear fine clothes, smoke cigars and be a gentleman of leisure.

Shame on you, young man! Go to work with the capital you have and you will soon make interest enough upon it to give you as much money as you need. If you can not make money upon what capital you have, you could not if you had a large amount in cash. If you would waste your present capital you would waste money if you had it. So don't stand around, a great helpless fellow, waiting for some thing to turn up, but go to work. Take the first work you can get to do and do it well. Always do your best, and if you manage your capital that God has given you, well, you will soon have plenty more to manage.

The world would be happier if people were a little more generous with their praise. There is too much flattery but a word of just appreciation would cheer the heart and strengthen the hands of many a discouraged worker in the home in the school, in the church, and in the world.

There was a man in Pittsburgh who spent several years in knocking about from failure to failure. He tried his hand at half a dozen occupations; had been by turns stenographer, telegrapher, clerk, bookkeeper, reporter, laborer at an oil well, and driver of a laundry wagon, and people were beginning to think he wasn't fit for much of anything. Then he got another job which looked like just another common clerkship. Twenty years later, thanks to the opportunities it opened to him, he was a millionaire several times over. After many failures he had found the place he fitted, the place that he, perhaps, was the only man who could fit.

Probably you could match this story with the experience of some friend of yours. I could tell several more of the same kind. But, when we tell them, let's not put too much emphasis on the "good luck" of the men who, though repeatedly knocked down, finally came to the top.

Let's not forget that they kept busy all the time at something, that they didn't lose their nerve; that they took care of their pennies; that they were always on the look out for a better chance and didn't let themselves sink into a rut. Such men invite luck.

Secretary William Howard Taft has reached Vladivostok on his return trip home. He will call on Emperor Nicholas of Russia December 4, leave St. Petersburg the next day and sailing early in December for America. He has decided not to meet the German Emperor as he at first intended.

People's Cure for Stomach Ills

It would be folly to say that a person should always be his own doctor. There are times when one cannot be too quick in calling a competent and reliable physician on the fact of course there are many ailments that can be cured at home at very little expense. Such remedies can be bought at any first-class drug store for a small sum.

Among the diseases that can be effectively treated at home are such as pertains to the stomach, liver and bowels, like constipation, dyspepsis, biliousness, flatulence, sour stomach, bloated stomach, sick headache, rheumatism, etc. There is no better remedy than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint, the great herb laxative compound, which is said to be the best laxative in the world. In such trouble, the know they have nothing better to offer than the ingredients in this remedy, and hence the liberal ones advised to take it.

It often happens that at the commencement of an attack some people hesitate to take such a strong medicine as this, but after trying various doctors they finally take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint and have their constipation removed. A good example of this is that of Mr. Herren, of Cincinnati, Ill., who suffered from what the doctors called catarrhal colitis. He was given up as hopeless. He was given Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint to take, and he did so. He could digest what little he did eat, had severe pains in the stomach, and finally, most of the time, was unable to sleep. Ultimately he was advised to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint and did so, and now he is entirely well again. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint advises all sufferers from weak stomach to use it. It can be had in 50 cent and $1 bottles and is absolutely guaranteed or money is refunded.

Bought a bottle to-day and watch results.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Peppermint before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to them. This is a guarantee that the remedy will do as we claim. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Gentlest laxative and a tonic that won't upset folks. A guaranteed permanent cure.
